GEORGE GRAHAM.

The Great Magician and Doctor, dying in poverty to a hospital.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—George R. Graham, the founder of Graham's Magazine, at the Memorial Hospital No. 1, Orange, and his death is expected at any moment. He has been an eminent member of the medical for several years, his board being signed by George W. Nichols of the Philadelphia Ledger. At one time Mr. Graham was a member of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania, but he could not afford to live on his salary, and that was his consequence was perfectly at ease. He would give an estimate of his earnings to all the charities he supported, and his wife, though she was a widow, had a large income, and was able to support him.

The evidence against others who have been accused is said to be no stronger than that against M. Roche.

The evidence against ex-Minister of Public Works, Balfour, continues, according to reports, to grow stronger. Balfour, says the Sociey admitted that he had received 15,000 francs for supporting the Panama lottery bill. Balfour, it is said, will make no defense of the charges against him. He is deserted by nearly all his friends, although his wife adheres to him with pathos.

There seems a disposition to lay much of the responsibility to M. Roche, but the defense of the minister and the prosecution of the ex-minister will be vigorously pushed.

Rev. Sam Jones said to a reporter of the Owensboro Inquirer that the reports of his speeches which get to the public through the press are very meager. The sensational parts are usually picked out to the exclusion of the rest, and, m'de the Rev. Willius' Willups of Sin, "I have often picked up the papers and read the reports of what I had said, and I did not blame the people for thinking me a blackguard, blather-skite and mountebank."

"I have only found three stenographers in the United States who could take my speeches. To the listener it seems that I talk very slowly, but the reporter who endeavors to take me finds out differently. I talk mostly in monosyllables, and speak sometimes 200 words to the minute, and again dropping down to sixty. The reporters can form no idea of what I am going to say next, and this makes it much more difficult for them. I believe there is only one man in the United States who can report me accurately, and that is Sam Small. My speeches generally run one hour and thirty minutes, and a reporter's hand gets tired writing 200 words to the minute for that length of time. When I was in Chicago the reporters took it time about writing twenty minutes each."

The sensational preacher goes soon to Paducah and Bowling Green, and may conduct a meeting at Owensboro, on the chance of which he warns everybody whom come to see him "to prepare to see a whole box full of monkeys" instead of only the usual one.

What Shall We Do With Our Clergy?

The germ theory of diseases now seems to be an accepted one by most physicians, and by the reading public in general. All diseases are now produced by a germ, whether bacteria, pneumonia or something of that kind. These little invisible devils are lurking in every puddle hole, in the walls and ceiling of the homes, in the food we eat, the fluid we drink, and in the air we breathe. They are with us whether we are asleep or awake. If we go down into the bowels of the earth, there they are in all their glory; if we go up in a balloon, behold they follow us there also. They cling closer to us than a collector and annoy worse than the seven-year itch. The last one of them ought to be either killed or banished to some lonely island where they should be compelled to starve or die upon each other.—Middletown Hatcher

Fayette.

Sleights are plentiful. The series of meetings recently held at this place by R. F. Rice and others closed last Wednesday, after many additions to the church and about twenty conversions.

Wm. Short is working in the blacksmith shop with Z. T. Webb. They are transacting an extensive business.

The High School of this place opened on the 9th, under the supervision of J. G. Talbert, of Flat Gap, and Wm. Burton, of Fallsburg. The prospects for a good school are flattering.

Miss Nellie Riffe, of Vessey, was visiting friends here last Sunday.

Wm. Hughes is preparing to move to J. C. Short's farm, Mr. Blaine, and John Heberlein will move into the house occupied by Hughes.

We have prayer meeting here every Wednesday night, led by Revs. Chaffin and Cooksey. Everybody invited to attend.

Thus Collinsworth, of this place, is visiting relatives at Duff's Fork.

Rev. J. C. Marcus has been very low with fever, but we are glad to say that he is improving.

J. H. Riffe, while visiting friends on Morgan's creek last week, was thrown a sleigh and laid his nose broken, and other parts of his face badly bruised.

We are soon to have a Library Society; also a singing school.

Hurrah for the News and all who read it.

An exchange says—If a country makes a mistake, by buying a wrong merchant makes a mistake by not telling it, if an editor in Kentucky takes it, put it on a large white sheet of paper for the whole world to look at, and in every community there are cranks who think they are not fit to wisdom because they discover these mistakes and keep them from the public without
